Cooley Joins Murphy Company as Service Account Manager

ST. LOUIS – Murphy Company, one of the nation's top mechanical contractors, has hired Don Cooley as a service account manager.

Cooley's major project involvements include overseeing the installation of a Halon 1301 Fire Suppression System in a 10,000-square-foot media vault, and the installation of an FM-200 Clean Agent Fire Suppression System at a local company, as well as overseeing ongoing Data Center operations. In addition, Cooley managed the installation of a Clean Agent Fire Suppression System and a Fire Alarm Detection System in a critical switching facility, and the replacement of an existing piping system with FM-200 discharge piping at a facility located in Carbondale, Ill.

With 19 years of experience, Cooley's training includes a 30-hour certification from Occupational Safety & Health Administration and certification in Level IV Fire Alarm Systems and Level III Special Hazards Suppression Systems from the National Institute for Certification in Engineering Technologies. He also earned an Industrial Electronics, HVAC 1-4, Residential, Commercial and Industrial electrical certificates. His factory training includes Fike, VESDA and Siemens fire protection systems. Cooley also is a licensed HVAC servicer/installer in St. Louis City and County, a licensed sprinkler fitter in St. Louis County and an equipment distributor employee license (Class 3) in Illinois. Cooley has been a member of the National Fire Protection Association for 11 years and a member of AFCOM, the Association for Data Center Management Professionals, for five years.
