Leb Joins Murphy Company as Building Automation System Integrator

ST. LOUIS – Murphy Company, one of the nation’s top mechanical contractors, welcomes Rich Leb as a building automation system integrator.

In this role, Leb will manage the incorporation of building automation systems into Murphy Company’s projects as part of the company’s goal to design and build efficient buildings with low on-going maintenance costs. Leb’s 30 years of experience in the mechanical construction industry includes work on projects such as DePaul Health Center in St. Louis, SSM St. Joseph Health Center in St. Charles, Mo., and Colliers International in St. Louis, to name a few.

“Building automation systems are an important component of our project delivery system that enhances our ability to service and maintain our clients’ mechanical systems, while achieving maximum system efficiency and cost effectiveness,” said Chris Carter, manager of Murphy’s St. Louis service. “Rich’s skill in the controls area is a valuable asset to our team and the benefits that our customers receive from incorporating a building automation system have been great.”

Murphy Company delivers mechanical solutions to the industrial, commercial, institutional and heavy industrial markets. With corporate offices in St. Louis and Denver, and regional offices in Fairview Heights, Ill., and Colorado Springs, Colo., the firm offers process piping, HVAC, refrigeration, plumbing, design-build, piping fabrication, energy solutions and 24-hour service. Murphy currently is ranked No. 13 on Engineering News-Record’s list of top mechanical contractors in the United States. Founded in 1907, the firm employs more than 1,000 people nationwide.
