
Julson Named Network Infrastructure Manager at Murphy Company

ST. LOUIS – Murphy Company has promoted Mike Julson to network infrastructure manager. Rob Koester, CFO, made the announcement.

“Michael has been a valued employee of Murphy Company for almost 13 years,” said Koester. “His deep knowledge associated with the design and implementation of our network infrastructure has prepared him for this new role.”

Julson’s responsibilities include the design, maintenance and development of hardware and network infrastructure, which support the company’s telephone/voice system, local area networks and wide area networks.

Julson attended Vatterott College and the University of Missouri-St. Louis.
